NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS.

If you wish to command a fair share of our readers' custom, now is the time to advertise. Spring is upon us, and everybody is looking around to find where they can buy to the best advantage. Don't expect them to go from one street to another. Hundreds have not come, and they read the advertisements in the Democrat and directly to buy. If your advertisement is not in the Democrat, you may lose many chances to sell hundreds over our paper every day. Our circulation in the city is increasing very rapidly, and in the country at an unprecedented rate.

The Democrat has the largest circulation west of the mountains among Democratic papers, and, at the present rate of increase, will soon have more subscribers than any paper published in the valley of the Mississippi. Our terms are moderate or prompt. Every business man owes it to himself to increase his business as much as possible, and the best way to accomplish this end, is to advertise in the Democrat, which is universally read in the city and country.

Whom the Gods Intend to Destroy, They First Make Mad.

Since the passage of the Kansas-Nebraska bill a party in the Free States had made the most strenuous efforts to disturb the regular operation of that measure. It was expected and intended that the emigrants to Kansas and Nebraska, prompted by the common motives of their own, should be left undisturbed to work out their own institutions to suit themselves; and this has been realized for one of the Territories—Nebraska.

The people of that Territory have not been interfered with by the politicians of the States, and they have moved onward in peace and prosperity. Kansas has not been so fortunate. All over the North the press, the pulpit, and the housetops have been exercised about the business of the settlers in that region. Treason has been openly counseled and advised, and arms openly forwarded to aid rebellion against the laws of the Territory. But one purpose is avowed by this party in its struggle for power, and that is to make Kansas a Free State. They are not satisfied to leave immigrants to the Territory to act unfeared in their own affairs, and abide their verdict. They must interfere, lest Kansas become a Slave-State. To prevent such a result, civil war, violence, and blood are invoked—disorders, lawlessness, and crime encouraged and protected.

Now we submit to any sober man, although he may prefer a Free to a Slave State, if the end to be attained is worth the cost of such means, to say nothing of their inherent sinfulness. Suppose Kansas does become, as her neighbor Missouri, a Slave State, how much damage will be done?

What business has a political party in New England, New York, or elsewhere, to manage and control the affairs of Kansas to suit themselves? Who made these responsible for the institutions of a Territory thousands of miles from them?

The means and appliances of this party have been as extravagant and absurd as they have been unscrupulous. They inspire as much contempt as indignation. The howl raised over the fall of the Missouri compromise—that it was specially designed to make Kansas a Slave State, that it was an attempt to subjugate the Free States to the Slave power, contrary to the terms of the act itself—and the arrivals of its authors to both sections of the Union, was itself an outrage.

The corrupt combinations with discordant factions to carry out their purpose, the confused jargon of counsel, and the stupefying terrors of incompatible opposition, indicated the existence of a blind mule, ready for any way to revenge, whether it lead to the end or not. The history of Roeder's operations in Kansas presents a series of inconsistencies and follies, often made worse by the wantonness of his acts.

Rising Sun, Ind., has been infested for several weeks by a gang of thieves.

We learn from the Mayaville Eagle, that on Friday last, at Murphyville, William Sullivan deliberately shot David R. Wells in the arm near the elbow, for some very trifling provocation done in playfulness. Sullivan made his escape.

We see that the Rev. Mr. Scudder, who has charge of the editorial department of the Mayaville Eagle during the illness of its regular editor, uses the word anti-American as applicable to the Democratic party, with great propriety. The "deceit" is not all confined to the laity.

John F. S., was drowned about the 14th of April in the Alabama river. His body has been found. He is believed to have been a native of the State of Maine. His relations living in this city. For further information apply to Wm. Farley, Mobile, Ala.

I. O. O. F.—The members of Charlestown, Ind., No. 74, at Charlestown, Ind., will have a celebration on Saturday, the 17th inst. The celebration will be one in earnest to the brotherhood.

The ladies of that place will present to the Lodge a beautiful Bible, and an address will be delivered by Geo. W. Morris, of this city.

Evening Market.—Our readers will no doubt be glad to learn that all the markets in the city will be open on Saturday evenings from 2 o'clock to 7. These Saturday evening markets are a great convenience to all, but especially to mechanics and laborers. Both meat and vegetables will be railed up at a nominal price.

A FACT FOR THE KNOW-NOTHINGS.—A correspondent of the Courier and Evening Call attests to the fact, that our national flag is made of foreign bunting; the flags of the capitals of the United States, of the arsenals, forts, ships of war, of peace, army, taverns, even those of the native American meetings, all are of foreign manufacture, and should a war come, we might be beaten by a hand of iron.

It is not enough to ruin a man's reputation; that is the richest joke out—decidedly a refutation I—said I.

I need not say to a neighbor, away across the meadows, and over the corn-fields in a great hurry to borrow some butter and cheese, and who professed of merrily singing "butter and cheese, butter and cheese," but the way she stamp'd her toe and fell, and recovering herself went on a piano singing, only her song was changed, "don't be a fatter, take your ease, don't be in a fatter, take your ease," and never thought of her message afterwards. Not so, however, with the boy.

We wanted New York with no thoughts whatever of getting there, and our money all gone, and the mat did not occur to us till we had been there three or four days.

I need not say to a neighbor, as bad as the girl who sent to a neighbor's, away across the meadows, and over the corn-fields in a great hurry to borrow some butter and cheese, and who professed of merrily singing "butter and cheese, butter and cheese," but the way she stamp'd her toe and fell, and recovering herself went on a piano singing, only her song was changed, "don't be a fatter, take your ease, don't be in a fatter, take your ease," and never thought of her message afterwards. Not so, however, with the boy.

He was sent to the office of Mr. Jones, the treasurer, and asked him if the concert was sound, and he said it certainly was.

Certainly—asked the dealer if his own wares were sound! asked the beau if his sweetheart was pretty! I asked the mother if her child was pretty! I.

THE DAILY DEMOCRAT.

FRIDAY, — — — MAY 16, 1856.

(From the Cincinnati Commercial, 14.)

The Affray in Covington.

Examination of the Turners.

SECOND DAY.

The Court convened, at eight o'clock, pursuant to adjournment. The name of the Turners was called, and all were found to be present.

Mr. Fisk stated that he intended to examine the witness introduced, not only in relation to the commission of a felony, but from that down to a breach of the peace.

C. Bean deposed that on Monday evening, a little after five o'clock, heard procession coming down Scott street; west to see it pass; while he stood on the corner of Main and Scott, saw a man run, and shot one man by his name and said you're my prisoner; the Turners then gathered around him; he told them he was Marshal of Covington; witness also told them that Mr. Butt was Marshal; saw a sandy-haired man strike at him; he was struck in the head, and went to the ground; Mr. Butt, in his assistance, witness saw Harvey and the others; there had been eleven men under my charge; all of whom carried guns. There were thirty or forty altogether who carried guns. A rumor had got to the Turners when they were in the hills that they were to be attacked when they went to the city. They were in the process of marching when the gunshots were heard; and peace and quietness ensued; there had been eleven men under my charge; all of whom carried guns.

Wm. Borden (a Turner, deposed)—Mr. Ross commanded the Turners as they came black through Covington. Don't know where Ross was at the time of the affray. I was the second instructor in the practice of arms. My duty was to see that the men in marching were in order, and to see that the gunshots were fired in the air; and to keep the procession in order. Did not see the difficulty with the boy Jackson, or with the gun.

Wm. Borden (a Turner, deposed)—The Turners were engaged in the procession, but from that down to a breach of the peace.
